Mr. L. D. Thompson of New Bloomfield, Mo., who was the Republican candidate for State Treasurer in 1916 and who made a most creditable race is again a candidate for the nomination. Mr. Thompson has been a hard working Republican for more than 20 years and has done yeoman service for the party in the "kingdom of Calloway" where he resides.

The passing of Walter W. Evans of Hutchinson, Kansas, last month removes from the social and political life of that state one of its most aggressive and resourceful factors. Walter Evans was prominent in the various fraternities of the race and was highly respected by the citizens not only of Hutchinson but of the state of Kansas. The Sun extends to the family its sincere sympathy in their bereavement.

Mr. Henry P. Ewing, of whom we had an interesting account last week on his "Back to the Farm Movement," caused the arrest of a Greek grocer at 24th and Vine streets last week for selling liquor and had him bound over before the United States courts. Mr. Ewing is arranging his business and closing up his affairs here preparatory to making Arkansas his future home, and recently addressed several gatherings of white men in that state and was very highly complimented on his remarks.

The editor is in receipt of a copy of the Duluth Ripper sent by Mr. Walker Williams of Minneapolis, Minn., in which it states that the three negroes lynched at Duluth were not guilty, that the rape story was a fabrication made up between the alleged victim and one William Sullivan, her friend. But what can bring back the lives of these innocent boys and alleviate the suffering of the relatives who are left behind. As sure as God lives the time is not far distant when Ethiopia shall stretch forth her hand and whether it be for weal or woe, time alone can tell.

GOOD MORNING.
A former and a self-announced prospective advertiser remarked: "I have nothing just now to send broadcast therefore if you will call later I shall give the Sun readers a display." Note that word broadcast; that's the view advertisers take of the "Sun." When they "ad" in the "Sun" they declare that it goes broadcast, which means everywhere.
The sun shines to light the dark places of the world, the "Sun" shines to bring light to the business places of our patrons, to attract attention to them and to send them buyers. That is the paramount aim of this paper.

"KEEP THE NEGRO DOWN."
(By Associated Negro Press.)
Southern editorials say, "There is something about the Negro, that warns us to Keep Him Down. When we come in real contact with the Negro there are remarkable things about him, that in the light of his supposed jungle ancestry cannot be explained. His remarkable mechanical ability, his genius in music, the subtle philosophy of the 'old Negro' are all hard to explain and the average white man demonstrates it as impudence.

In the rank of Negro leadership there is astounding ignorance of what the Negro was in past ages of the world. "The Negro" by DuBois and The Journal of Negro History has not received from them a glance; yet they are certain they are prepared to lead the Negro to his destiny and blaze the pathway he must follow to fulfill his purpose in God's plan. Until we understand the Negro, who can say what shall be his place in the sun?
The cry of "Negro Domination" has not sprung from naught. The educated white man has extracted from the pages of history all the way marks pointing back to prove that the wonders of the Orient were the product of black hands. The pre-historic races which light the torch of civilization of Egypt, Greece and Rome were black. Many of the white makers of history are unaware of these facts. Others purposely seek to cover them.

The Phoenicians never knew themselves under such a name but called themselves Ethiopians. So carefully has white scholarship rewritten and renamed ancient people that with the starting point of Egypt for General History it is very difficult to find out anything about Egypt teachers who were black. When the curtain of history rises, the civilization of Egypt was hoary. Why is the historian so silent about what lay behind? Because it was a black empire that ruled three continents for 3,000 years.

These things are carefully hidden from black people today for fear that knowing black men might rise and again dominate the world. Well might they fear the descendants of those ancient, who built stupendous cities, whose ruins extend in uninterrupted succession along the shores of the Mediterranean Sea. Engineers of today do not know by what power those immense stones were lifted or by what magic they were so perfectly fitted.
The ancient Cushite Empire gave to the world the principles upon which republican governments were founded. Its wonderful foundation stones were EQUALITY, TEMPERANCE, INDUSTRY, INTELLIGENCE and JUSTICE. Negro scholarship can find no richer vein than the poring over duty out of print, yet authentic documents, even going back to the original sources from which the white fan has drawn facts of ancient history to teach the Negro the things about himself, that he ought to know.

You may read for an afternoon in a public library for a line really creditable the Negro. This is the condition of present day books. Those upon Africa and Africans teem with revolting traits of the African debauched by the white slave trade, but to him of patience who has a purpose, at times he comes upon SINGULAR traits in the untrained tribes, evidences of a marvelous earlier civilization.

He who loves his race will paint tellingly, painstakingly these great traits making clear the wisdom in the development of the genius of the Negro as bitterly needed to help solve some of the problems which are the conservation of white civilization to the TRUE NATURE OF THE NEGRO will remove fear. Through time black people have been creative, temperate and fair. Give him a CHANCE and he will pull a brother's part in the problems and responsibilities of today.

THEY SAY

—That cold facts often cause hot arguments.

—That lots of people who are inclined to do good always put it off until tomorrow.

—That if you'd only get acquainted with your neighbor, you might like him. Well that's so.

—That regardless of the H. C. L. some women have more money than they know what to do with.

—That a woman looks good to the other fellow until she succeeds in breaking up her home. Yes, indeed.

—That if you don't read the Sun you don't know what newsy things of the race you miss. Well I reads it, honey, all de time.

—That a young husband who recently caught his wife coming out from a notorious rooming house "wore her out" and then set her trunk out into the street. Well, be careful.

—That a certain colored brother said he never became angry, that he always smiled and took life easy, but what do you think he did after he sat down on a long sharp tack that some boys put in his favorite pew at church?

—That the ruling passion will assert itself on any and all occasions is evidenced by the following story: During the world's war a transport carrying American troops was struck by a torpedo from a submarine. An Irish soldier among the American troops shouted as the submarine rose to the surface "Gwan you dirty spalpeen, if you're wait till I get to you, I'll give you the domestic lickin ye ever had in yer life." A colored soldier from "Bam" true to his racial instinct fell down on his knees and began to pray and said "Oh Lawd, heah's dis boat goin' down and we ain't had no dinnaah." while the Jewish soldier wringing his hands and in a broken tone of voice said "Gintlemen, gintlemen, is dere anybody here who wants to buy a good watch and chain?" but luckily the transport didn't sink and they all got to France to tell the story.

G. Grant Williams of Philadelphia broke all records in presenting the Williams' Singers of Chicago at the Academy of Music, Philadelphia, March 30. For the first time in the history of that house, "Entire House Sold Out" had to be put out the day before the concert. No ticket sellers were on duty that night, only ticket takers being necessary. More than three thousand were present and several hundred were disappointed.

At Allen Chapel Wednesday Evening, July 28.
